

Strength for the Journey

“New Covenant People”

Luke 22:7-20

Notes:

Strength through Prayer:

Spend a few moments in prayer. Thank God that, as a result of the new covenant, he sets up His temple in us! And make a commitment to live accordingly—honoring and glorifying Him.

You may want to begin your prayer with these words:

“Thank You, Father, for making me a temple of the Holy Spirit. I want to honor you by what I allow to come into this temple, and also by what comes out. Help me to do so—in Jesus’ name.”

Closing Call to Action:

1. Be careful what you put in your life—the temple of the Holy Spirit. As the Old Testament temple was closely guarded to keep it holy, set some sentinels or guards (e.g., on your “eye gate” or “ear gate”) to insure that what goes in builds on a setting where a holy relationship can take place.
2. It’s not only important what goes into this temple, but also what goes out. What comes out of the temple in words, actions, and activities certainly ought to reflect the indwelling God who lives in us rather than contradicting Him.
- 3) Don’t get into the wrong thinking that you are only in God’s house when you are at church. We are God’s house. When we go to church, we take God’s house into church; when we leave church, we take God’s house out of church. We must understand this high privilege: In no other time in the history of God’s work on this planet has He chosen to dwell in His people.
